Have you ever listened to music created or composed by artificial intelligence (AI) systems?	On a scale of 1 to 5, how familiar are you with the concept of AI-generated music?	What do you think about the quality of AI-generated music compared to human-composed music?	Would you be interested in attending a concert where the music is entirely composed by AI?	How likely are you to actively seek out and listen to AI-generated music in your spare time?	What aspects of AI-generated music do you find most appealing or intriguing?	Are there any specific genres or styles of music that you think AI-generated systems are particularly well-suited to create?	How do you think the integration of AI technology will impact the creative process in the music industry?
2/26/2024 18:43:29	Spotify, Soundcloud	alternative hip hop psychedelic rock		No	No		2 I think it's alright for simple pieces but for more advanced stuff it could never replicate human made stuff	No		1 dk	basic hip hop	make it faster but also less original
2/26/2024 18:44:46	Apple music	punk, jazz, alt rock	elated, sad, angry, yearning	Yes	Yes		5 shit mate	No		1 None it's an abuse of the artform	Fuck no	not positively, executives see a way to streamline cheap music and make it shit
2/26/2024 18:55:51	Spotify	Classic Rock	Happy, exciting and calm	Yes	No		2 AI works for study and concentration but lacks the lyrical meaning that a human brings	Yes		2 Beat music and calm	Phonk / Dancemidgets and Club music	AI will work with making easy dance music that can be programed with lights and firework
2/26/2024 19:02:33	Spotify, Soundcloud	witch house, dance punk, alt rock	happiness, sympathy, sadness, energetic	Yes	Yes		2 it's way worse. the themes are unrelatable, generic, and the structure of the songs is usually pretty steady and unwavering which makes it boring and uncreative.	No		1 possibility for weird noises and sound. like texture generation	like corporate royalty free music, shit's soulless anyways!	it'll make lazy artists more obvious because their sound will meld together more.
2/26/2024 20:30:38	Spotify, Soundcloud	Heavy metal, indie rock, alt rock, hip hop and funk		Yes	No		4 It's getting better but far from human connectivity and creativity	No		1 Despise it to be honest but good for the smart people they do cool things with code	Rap/hiphop	I think it will make it easier to "create" beats and lyrics but not compose complete musical songs
2/26/2024 20:57:53	Spotify	Metal, Goth, punk, folk, country/bluegrass, funk/disco,	hope, pride, anger, passion, love.	Yes	No		1 I would assume it would sound very generic or easily replicable	No		1 I'm interested to see how AI would draw on a variety of genres to create music or if the sound of AI music is distinguishable to a human writer	Pop music or children's music	Similar to how AI has impacted the film and television industry, I think the use of AI under our current system will only cause problems for artists in the future such as the rights to their own music or lyrical freedom
2/26/2024 21:43:42	Spotify, Good old FM radio	Rock, metal	Calmth focussed safe excited	Yes	Yes		3 Its less rule bending	No		1 Nothing really	Nope	No as people will need to release crativity in a way and music is one of them at the same time, people love to see their favorite muscicians in action live, something al cant take over
2/26/2024 22:53:39	Spotify	Goth, new wave , emo, classical music, retro music	Epic fornite, hashtag emo sadness, cool awesome sauce	No	No		2 Ai sucks dookie balls	No		1 Wondering what those hoes can take from humans	Crystal castles or those like repeat tiktok songs	People will loose creativity/ the ability todo shit good
2/26/2024 22:58:12	I do not use any apps to find new music	Power pop, punk, indie pop	Free indestructible alive	Yes	Yes		4 I've never heard a complete AI composed track that has interest me.	Yes		1 Deep fakes	Downtempo or ambient.	Definitely, AI compositions and performances will quickly replace hold music and background music in tv/film. AI can already generate possibilities for pop and country pop writers as starting points
2/27/2024 6:00:02	Spotify, Soundcloud	screamo and indie and 2020 internet music	angry sad amazed (by the goodness of the music)	No	No		3 SHIT	No		1 its crazy they made a way to make the worst music possible	no	not rly effect it lol
2/27/2024 12:28:01	Spotify	Rock	Happy, somber, nostalgic, chilled out, hyped	Yes	No		3 AI is incapable of recreating the emotion of human songwriting	No		1 It's adherence to music theory.	Lo-Fi	AI being used as a tool for releasing back catalogues, like The Beatles "Now and Then" where it was used to separate John Lennon's vocals from a piano track. I personally believe this will have a negative impact on the music industry as it will encourage the release of songs that were already passed but no matter how its used AI will stunt and prevent innovation.
